

CONNECTING

When despair for the world grows in me and I wake in the night at the least sound
in fear of what my life and my children's lives may be,
I go and lie down where the wood drake rests in his beauty on the water, and the great heron feeds.
I come into the peace of wild things who do not tax their lives with forethought of grief.
I come into the presence of still water.
And I feel above me the day-blind
stars
waiting with their light.
For a time
I rest in the grace of the world,
and I am free.

Wendell Berry

May all I say and all I think be in harmony with thee,
God within me, God beyond me, maker of the trees.

In me be the windswept truth of shore-pine, fragrance
of balsam and spruce, the grace of hemlock.

In me the truth of Douglas fir, straight, tall, strongtrunked land hero of fireproof bark.
Sheltering tree of life, cedar's truth be mine, cypress truth, juniper aroma, strength of yes.

May all I say and all I think be in harmony with thee,
God within me, God beyond me, maker of the trees.

In me be the truth of stream-lover willow soil-giving alder hazel of sweet nuts, wisdom-branching oak.

In me the joy of crabapple, great-maple, fire-maple,
cleansing cascara and lovely dogwood.

And the gracious truth of the copper branched arbutus bright with colour and fragrance, be with me on the Earth.

May all I say and all I think be in harmony with thee,
God within me, God beyond me, maker of the trees.

...the air smells good today,
straight from the mysteries
within the inner courts of God.
A grace like new clothes thrown across the garden,
free medicine for everybody.
The trees in their prayer,
the birds in praise,
the first blue violets kneeling.
Whatever came from Being is caught up in being,
Drunkenly forgetting the way back.
