

The Healing Fund

Since 1994 the Healing Fund has been one part of The United Church of Canada's response to the legacy of the Indian Residential School experience and a partnership with First Nations communities in Canada. The fund continues to receive donations to support Native community healing programs initiated by residential school survivors and their families for language restoration, abuse healing, counselling, and traditional teachings.

<http://www.united-church.ca/funding/healing>

Justice and Reconciliation Fund

Since 2000 the Justice and Reconciliation Fund of The United Church of Canada has supported educational and relationship building projects that foster dialogue, understanding, and right relations between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal peoples. <http://www.united-church.ca/aboriginal/relationships/fund>